ZYNODOA 1949

The Zynodoa '49

SHENANDOAH

You are the portals, noble, inspiring, champion of our youth.
You make our purpose staunch and untiring,
living tools of truth.

Shenandoah glow in radiance
as your flame we tend.
Beauty inst'll within our souls,
beauty, too, we lend.

We are your heart beats, loyal, unending,
flashing forth your light.
We shape your spirit, keen and unbending, temp'ring strength with right.

Shenandoah echo fully this deep joy we sing.
Honor bestow upon our lives,
honor, too, we bring.

Dedication

We, the classes of 1949, do gratefully dedicate this issue of the ZYNODOA to DEAN ANDERSON who has used his great ability, his untiring efforts, and his capable leadership to aid us in attaining our goals.

Foreword

We present the 1948-49 edition of THE ZYNODOA to the faculty, to the present student body, to all former and future students, and to all friends of Shenandoah.

To those who are acquainted with Shenandoah, we hope this book will awaken fond memories of profitable and pleasant days spent on our campus. May this edition of THE ZYNODOA serve as another link in the chain which binds the affections of Shenandoah's students to their alma mater.

To those who know not Shenandoah, but who may in the course of time look through this book, we trust that this edition of our yearbook will create a favorable impression and awaken a desire to know more about Shenandoah and its students.

We believe that the secret of Shenandoah's charm is to be found in the simplicity of life upon our campus—a simplicity not lacking in dignity but representative of the best traditions of our school. In harmony with the spirit of Shenandoah, we have attempted to make this book informal, yet at the same time by written word and pictorial presentation set forth the real spirit of Shenandoah.

SHENANDOAH LOYALTY FUND

In commemoration of those persons who have signified their faith and confidence in Shenandoah by contributing materially to the Shenandoah Loyalty Fund, we herewith express our sincere gratitude and appreciation. Apparently Shenandoah means more to you than being just another institution, a means of livelihood, or an afterthought. Your generosity has made this publication possible, and we salute you. Your "actions speak louder than words."

A LEGEND

Centuries ago, before the white man came to the American shores, there lived in the primeval forest of what is now the Valley of Virginia, a beautiful songbird. Its sweetest song was sung at twilight, the time when day so beautifully blends with night, and the song which it sang was Zynodoa.

One evening, as a young squaw was lulling her child to rest by the campfire, a Zynodoa, perched in the tree nearby, poured forth its evening melody, singing as never before. Its throat shook with rapturous trills, and the beauty of it entered into the mother's heart. She named her little brave Zynodoa.

Zynodoa, the brave, became a great warrior, and his fame spread from one tribe to another. As a memorial to the beauty, strength, and the bravery of his life, his people gave his name to the river, mountain, and the valley which we now call Shenandoah.

SILVER LAKE

I wish to extend a cordial greeting to our present college family, the many friends and former students who have graced the Shenandoah campus, and the future generations who may learn to know and love this institution as their alma mater.

For seventy-four years, Shenandoah has contributed to the spring of social progress through Christian influences in the home, the school, and innumerable other walks of life. May those pictured on the pages of this publication bring honor and praise to their lives and Shenandoah, worthy of the consecration and struggle of our predecessors in making Shenandoah a positive force in better Christian living.

The Zynodoe depicts life on the campus today. May the lives of these young people continue to be as inspiring and fruitful in the years to come.

CONSERVATORY CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

In September of 1945, forty-four Freshmen entered the portals of Shenandoah. H. M. Peel and Jean Caricofe transferred to the College department at the close of the first semester. At the beginning of the second semester, Harvey Turner, Jim Sadler, Bill Miller, Kazimer Markow, and Earle Weekley returned from the Service and entered our Class. Robert Waddell was Class President, Connie Crowe was Vice-President, Mavis Link was Secretary-Treasurer, and Miss Carol Puckett was Class Sponsor. Jessie Trumbo was elected May Queen, and Billie Doris Watts was elected Class representative on the May Court.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

We returned with the loss of the following students: Jane Coates, Vera Shore, Billie Doris Watts, Calvin Parker, Laura Moose, Anna Waddell, Mary Nelson, Victor Gebhart, Margaret Goode, Connie Crowe, and Doris Edens. Rebecca Seward was elected Class President, Frank Carroll was Vice-President, and Rudolph BeCraft was Secretary-Treasurer. Miss Williams was our Class Sponsor. Ida Raines Waddell was May Queen of this year, and Betty Grimes was our Class representative.

JUNIOR YEAR

The following students failed to return our Junior year: Willis Baldridge, Nancy Davis, LaRue Hickok, Lorraine Huffman, Helen Hall, Iva Martin, Mary Anne Matthews, Carol Miller, Jean Willingham, Kazimer Markow, and Hubert Harmon. Bill Miller was Class President, Harvey Turner was Vice-President, and Geraldine Gearhart was Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Tait was our Class Sponsor. Hilda Maulden was May Queen, and Betty Grimes was our Class representative.

SENIOR YEAR

Helen Frick and Fred Wolverton were married during the summer following our Junior year, and they, along with Jean Jones, Earle Weekley, and Rebecca Seward, failed to return to school. Jim Sadler was Class President, Robert Waddell was Vice-President, and Betty Grimes Kita was Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Anderson was our Class Sponsor. Florence Sisk was elected May Queen, and Betty Grimes Kita was our Class representative.

CONSERVATORY SENIORS LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Shenandoah Conservatory of Music
Dayton, Virginia

We, the members of the graduating class of Shenandoah Conservatory of Music, desiring to foster the true spirit of Shenandoah, do hereby bequeath the following:

To our President, Dr. L. P. Hill, we bequeath our sincere affections, our profound reverence, our deepest gratitude, and the unlimited wealth of our memory forever.

To Dean J. Edgar Anderson, who has patiently guided and advised us during our years of study, we bequeath our deepest gratitude, our most sincere thanks, and our unending appreciation for a job well done.

To our faculty, who have been with us as our instructors, we bequeath our appreciation in all the truth and wisdom of the ages. They have done their job faithfully and shall have their reward.

I, Rudolph BeCraft, will my "soul" to all brass players except "Red," "Ish," and "Nick," who already have "souls."

I, Archie Boothe, leave my hat (Junior) to Julia Ring, my desk in the composing room to Rudy, and my chair at the Rook Table to the other addicts.

I, Frank Carroll, leave my "soul" to all people who play juke boxes and like Stan Kenton.

I, Geraldine Gearhart, leave my dignity to Julia, and my "voice" to Bryan Speed.

I, Martha Hartness, leave my will-power to diet and get results to anyone who desires and yearns hopefully to be slender some day.

I, Betty Kita, will my luck in hooking my man for life to "How's your crops" Culpepper.

I, Millie Lentz, leave my "Darling Will" to the vivacious "Darling Jill."
(R. V.)

I, Bill Miller, leave my nerves to Charles Misenheimer.

I, Johnny Morgan, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to teach trumpet to Merle to some student teacher next year who might have the same task.

I, Jim Sadler, leave ten new trombone majors to Mr. Genge, and I leave—I hope.

I, Florence Sisk, leave my false teeth to Bob. He'll probably need them if I hear of his running around too much next year.

I, Harvey Turner, being of sound mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath my love for piano to "Misie," and all my old bassoon reeds to Mr. Anderson.

I, Bob Waddell, leave my extra hours of piano credits to anyone who needs them, and my knack for finding my music just before my lessons.

We, the Conservatory Seniors, leave regretfully with hopes that music will echo through the halls of Shenandoah forever.

This is our final will and testament, signed and sealed this thirty-first day of May, 1949.

Seniors of Shenandoah Conservatory of Music

CONSERVATORY SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

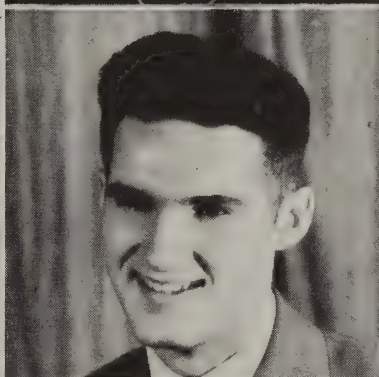

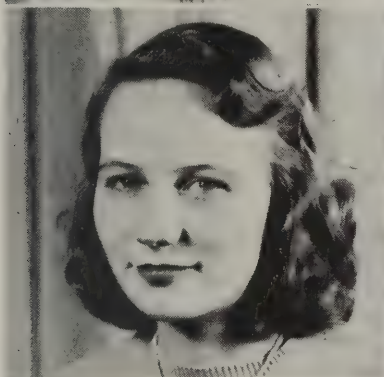

As we gaze into the crystal ball of the future to look in upon the lives of our former classmates, we are delighted to see them so happy and well established.

A number of Danvers' papers carry the ads of Mrs. Betty Grimes Kita, teacher of tuba. She is especially fine with young children, teaching the first principles of tone production on milk bottles. Johnny Morgan's name has appeared in the M. E. A. Journal in a protest of teaching students whom the teacher considers "hammer heads." Bill Miller is in all his glory, for his job only requires the use of his thumb—he's a professional "hitch-hiker." Where the birds sweetly sing and the waters quietly flow, there you will find Florence Sisk billing and cooing to Robert Jr. In the thriving city of Kannapolis Frank Carroll is sitting patiently with his small piano student and hoping that some day he will learn to play Rachmanioff's 2nd. Piano Concerto. On the campus of Florida Southern we find Martha "Bubbles" Hartness giving instruction in the art of ju-jitsu. The music world is indeed privileged to have the honor of the melodious voice of Miss Geraldine (Gerry) Gearhart, accompanied by the greatest two-finger pianist of the century, who is none other than our own Jim Sadler. Let us pause a moment and look at our favorite educational center—Dayton High School. Here we find Robert Waddell striving to discover a method by which he can get "Frogie" in the first grade to match his pitch. Mr. Harvey Turner has astounded us in his teaching of voice to Metropolitan stars. The shiny head of Bob Black is a result of his teaching at home and abroad—family of twelve. Archie Booth's beaming face can be seen on the campus of Western State, where he teaches eurhythmics. Rudy BeCraft now runs a night club. The sign reads—"Jump and Jive at Rudy's Beehive." Millie Lentz has just returned from her concert tour abroad to her current season at the Met, where she plays the lead in Carmen Jones.

COLLEGE CLASS HISTORY

Our Freshman year began with a bang. Approximately 120 Freshmen enrolled in the College courses at Shenandoah. The first week we were initiated into the ritual of "Freshman Week." Our modesty, reputation and personal pride were torn completely down by the events of "Freshman Week." We crawled on our hands and knees, did interpretations, recited poetry, and stood watch on a barrel while upper classmen ridiculed us.

One of the highlights of the year was "Leap Week." No longer did the men pay for the food at the Pantry, Winks, or the Student Center nor worry about financing shows. The women were burdened with the evil problems of money and available dates. "Leap Week" ended with a party in the gymnasium. Everyone was glad to get back to the old routine.

Hilda Maulden was May Queen in 1948. Undine Bridgers represented the Freshman Class on the May Court. The coronation was followed by the most elaborate and best party of the year.

Our Senior year brought decided changes in our status in the school. During "Freshman Week," we became the aggressors and sent the Freshmen through the routines we had experienced previously. The class lost a great number of students over the summer vacation period, and in February Undine Bridgers and Jane Keiter completed the necessary work for diplomas and departed from our campus.

On May Day, Florence Sisk, with pomp and ceremony, was crowned May Queen. Joyce Gale Rau, College Senior, was Maid of Honor; Polly Lotts represented the Senior Class, and Arlene Kessler was Gift Bearer.

Thirty-eight College seniors graduated from Shenandoah, and so another senior class passes through the doors of Shenandoah College, looking back on many enjoyable occasions, and anticipating many return visits.

COLLEGE SENIORS LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Shenandoah College
Dayton, Virginia

We, the members of the graduating class of Shenandoah College, do hereby bequeath the following:

I, Herbert Lohr, do hereby leave the Presidency of the C.W.L. to Ruth Sheaffer.

I, Pauline Lotts, leave "Red" to some freshman.

I, Elayne Markowitz, leave my restriction to Miss Davis.

I, Mitchell Pappas, leave my hot rod to Dick Duprey.

I, Wilbur Purdham, leave all my duties at the dining hall to Miss Biddlecomb.

I, Joyce Gale Rau, leave my cheerful smile to all those who are gloomy.

I, Ernest Rodgers, leave my beautiful convertible to those who have to hitchhike.

I, Lena Rosenberry, leave my swimming ability to some padless punk.

I, Marie Schell, leave my visits to Shenandoah to the girls' dorm.

I, Jollette Steppe, leave my "trim figure" to Dean Connor.

I, Kirby Smith, leave my classes under Riggs, gladly.

I, Stanley Spencer, have left.

I, James K. Sullivan, leave my sleepless nights to the barracks.

I, Calvin Sumpter, leave the Ad. Building to Mr. Wynne.

I, Guy Thacker, leave the baseball team to some hot shot.

I, Verna Thompson, leave Jimmy Sullivan's Model "A" at the girls' dorm.

I, Beverley Trail, leave my Whizzer bike to Mr. Gibbs in order to hurry him to class.

I, Cecil Trainum, leave my dry cleaning business to "Prod."

I, Jack Turans, leave (one) ride in my Golden Pontiac to some freshman.

I, John Turner, leave my Psychology class to Phil O'Brien.

I, Benton Wicks, leave my weekend trip to Front Royal.

I, Moulton Wicks, leave Madison.

I, Howard Bigam, leave my cold room in barracks 21 to some hot-headed freshman.

I, George Bailey, leave my editorials to any freshman who cares to use them.

I, Wendell Putt, leave my curly hair to Mr. Racey.

I, Wordie Dement, leave the pole in the chapel to Evelyn DesChene.

I, Kenneth Hart, leave the job of cleaning the gym to Bernard Fogle, in order to keep him from getting fat.

I, Betty Camden, leave my room to some freshman who will be awakened by the janitor every morning.

I, Billie Paige Good, leave my 8 o'clock class (Mr. Riggs') to some unlucky freshman.

I, Arlene Kessler, leave my "No Parking" sign to the front porch of the girls' dorm.

Seniors of Shenandoah College

COLLEGE SENIORS CLASS HISTORY

I was traveling to England aboard the U.S.S. Americana several months ago, when by chance I ran into an old school mate, none other than George Bailey, the prominent owner and editor of the Boston News Enterprises. During the course of conversation, we began talking of school days and what had happened to the others of our class. George, being in the newspaper business, had very accurate records of former students. "Onion," after seeking her second divorce, is making up gag tricks for ABC. Wordie Dement is a tobacco broker down Durham way. Ken Hart is now chief accountant for New York Life Insurance Company. Guy Thacker is now comptroller of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. According to fashion designers, Elayne Markowitz is knocking them dead with her new creations in women's apparel. Betty Camden and Marie Schell are making lots of progress in that private school for girls. Mitchell Pappas astounded the world last week by setting a new track record after topping 194.4 m.p.h. Bingo and Faye are still in Pennsylvania, where he is President of the Quaker State Oil Refining Co. From what I heard, he has just endowed "Ye Ole Alma Mater" with a new Girls' Dorm and a Cafeteria. John Barnett is still at his position with a New York Television Corp. and keeping us all in good humor. His program If he keeps up, he'll top the old Crosby record. The Cleveland Browns won the If he keeps up, he'll top the old Crosby record. The Cleveland Brown's won the football world series. The team has been great since owner-coach Bill Dahl took over the runs. David Frey is now head chemist with the DuPont Co. Arlene Kessler and Polly Lotts have been doing fine with their Children's Hour program over the Columbia Broadcasting Company. Martha Hartness has just returned to her home and Chemical Engineer husband, Bob Breckwoldt, after completing a successful tour with the Detroit Symphony. Coach Lycurgus Hill, Jr. and his terrific quintet from the University of West Virginia walked away with the NC BA tournament for the second year. Dr. Bob Esbenshade is head of the Language Department at the University of Pennsylvania. Of course you all know that Jollette Steppe has reached the height of his political career by being elected President of the United States. James Sullivan has just received notification that he has been given credit for the discovery of a cure for cancer. Jack Turans has just been elected to the State of Pennsylvania Supreme Court. Robert and William Karnes are doing very nicely in the newly established Pharmacy Laboratory. Joyce Gale Rau has been selected Actress of the Year by LOOK magazine. Beverley Trail has just filed notice that he is incorporating his motorcycle manufacturing company. Jane Keiter is keeping up the good spirits of her famous husband, Lycurgus Hill, Jr. Herbert Lohr is now head of the Theological Department of Bonebrake Seminary. John Jenkins recently became head of the History Department at the University of West Virginia. Constance Via has just started on a tour of the United States as concert pianist with the Austin Symphony. Ernest Rodgers was recently elected President of the Board of Governors of Pillsbury Milling Corp. We arrived in England much elated and relaxed. After dropping George off at the office of the London Times, I proceeded to the Royal Hospital where I was to deliver a new Prince Charming to the Queen of England.

"The Arrowhead" is the official student publication of Shenandoah College and Shenandoah Conservatory of Music. "The Arrowhead" is published monthly during the school year. It contains news of interest to the student body, current events on the campus, and items of interest to former students. The actual publication is the task of two classes in Journalism, but students not enrolled in Journalism make frequent contributions to "The Arrowhead."

At Shenandoah the Women's Student Government Association governs the conduct of the students in such areas as social welfare, dormitory life, and general discipline. College should be a place where students learn to govern themselves. They should have some voice in making the regulations which are necessary for the orderly functioning of the school. However, the final authority and responsibility for the outcomes achieved by student government rest with the President and the Faculty of the College and Conservatory.

The W.S.G.A. has set the following aims as the purpose of its existence: To encourage self-government; to promote constructive policies pertaining to scholastic and extra-curricular activities; to stimulate the highest standards of honor in all matters of personal conduct; and to make and enforce regulations which are in harmony with the College and Conservatory administration and which will encourage a progressive and a cooperative student life.

The officers, with the help of the hall proctors, have sponsored the following activities of the year: Peanut Week, Open House, May Court Reception, and Parents' Weekend.

MEN'S SENATE

ROBERT BLACK.....President
ROBERT BARNHARDT.....Vice-President
TOMMY LAWRENCE.....Secretary-Treasurer
C. H. CONNOR.....Faculty Advisor

The Men's Senate has as its purpose the maintenance of order among the men on the campus and cooperation with the Women's Student Government in governing the conduct of the students in such areas as social welfare, dormitory life, and general discipline. However, the final authority and responsibility for the outcomes achieved by the student government rest with the President and the Faculty of the College and Conservatory. The officers of the Men's Senate are elected at the end of each school year by the men of the College and of the Conservatory; the House Committees are elected by the members of each boys' dormitory at the beginning of each year. It is the duty of the House Committee-men of each dormitory to maintain order and to enforce rules made by the members of their respective dormitories. The Men's Senate is a democratic organization whose members share in the responsibilities and privileges of student government.

The purpose of the Y Cabinet is to coordinate the religious, social, and recreational activities of the campus. This group goes on retreat in the spring and in the fall to make a detailed program and to plan the finances of the school year. The plans for 1948-49 included weekly vespers, Religious Emphasis Week, parties, May Day, minstrels, and T-shirt sales. The Cabinet also sponsored a faculty-student basketball game to raise money for the World Student Service Fund.

The student Y.W.C.A. is a world-wide organization whose purpose is to coordinate the religious, social and recreational activities of the college campus.

The Y.W.C.A. Cabinet at Shenandoah College and Conservatory combines with the Y.M.C.A. to direct the major part of all the activities held during the school year.

In September, when the freshmen first enter college, the Y Cabinet directs Freshman Week to orient the freshmen with college life.

Throughout the year, this Cabinet conducts a full program consisting of the weekly vespers, Religious Emphasis Week, parties, the entire May Day program, and numerous skits presented in the auditorium of Bricker Chapel.

KENNETH HART.....	President
JAMES SIMS.....	Vice-President
BETTY CAMDEN.....	Secretary-Treasurer
GRETCHEN ARNER	Social Chairman
ELLA MAE DRAPER.....	Devotional Chairman
EVELYN DESCHENE	Reporter

The Student Y is the only organization on the campus that can claim all the students as members. Working hand in hand with the "Y" Cabinet, the Student Y helps put on all the banquets, dances and many other campus activities.

Among the more notable activities this year were the Halloween Masquerade Party, the Thanksgiving Banquet, the Christmas Dance, and the May Day Festivities. Many of the Sunday Evening Vesper Services are sponsored by the Y.

Each year, as soon as the students have settled down to their regular routine, a meeting is held to nominate and vote upon students for the various offices. This year, the offices were filled by capable hands which assumed the difficult task of organizing the activities and carrying them out successfully. A great deal of the credit belongs to the Social Chairman and the President. However, without the cooperation of the student body as a whole, very little could have been done.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS LEAGUE

The Meeting will come to order!

Devotions: Each member takes his turn in leading devotions, which consist of scripture, prayers, and a short talk.

Podium Managers

As the touring choir, the A Cappella Choir is one of the outstanding musical organizations on the college campus. Members are selected from both the College and the Conservatory. Eligibility for the Choir is dependent upon scholastic standing, as well as musicianship.

The schedule for this year's tour took the A Cappella Choir to Washington, D. C., Arlington, Roanoke, Clifton Forge, Staunton, Harrisonburg, Charlottesville, Fredericksburg, and other cities in Virginia.

In addition to choral works of Bach, Arcadelt, and Gretchaninoff, compositions by five contemporary American composers were included in the repertory this season. Several student compositions have also been presented in concert and in the College Church services.

Besides its regular concert series, the A Cappella Choir participated in the annual Christmas performance of the Messiah, and joined the Chapel Choir and the Orchestra in a concert of pre-Easter music.

THE CHAPEL CHOIR

GERALDINE GEARHART.....President
POLLY LOTTS.....Secretary-Treasurer
JEANENE FRANKHOUSER.....Librarian
LENA ROSENBERRY.....Choir Mother
JAMES LUNSFORD.....Podium Manager

As a new organization on the campus this year, the Chapel Choir has become a vital part of the musical life of the College and Conservatory. Its ranks have been open to all who enjoy singing. The Choir took an active part in the worship services of the College Church and gave a spring concert with the Band. During the Christmas season, the Chapel Choir joined the Shenandoah Choral Society in the presentation of Handel's Messiah. At Easter, the group participated in the performance of a Bach Cantata and The Seven Last Words by Heinrich Shutz.

THE ORCHESTRA

The Shenandoah Conservatory of Music Sinfonietta, consisting of thirty members, is conducted by Dean J. Edgar Anderson. It is a small symphony with an instrumentation of ten violins, three violas, five cellos and double basses, flute, oboe, two clarinets, bassoon, two horns, two trumpets, two trombones, and percussion.

The Orchestra rehearses three times each week. Two of the rehearsals are spent in working on its own programs, and the third period is a laboratory for the use of Conservatory students. During that period, original compositions and orchestrations by Conservatory students are rehearsed, and student conductors are given an opportunity to direct.

The Sinfonietta plays music selected from the standard orchestral literature and includes symphonies, overtures, and suites which can best be played by a smaller orchestra. Works of such contemporary American composers as Howard Hanson, Roy Harris, and Burrill Philips receive considerable attention.

In addition to its regular concerts, the Orchestra made several off-campus appearances and also assisted the Chorus in its Easter concert.

THE STRING ENSEMBLE

The Shenandoah Conservatory of Music String Ensemble, consisting of fifteen members selected from the string choir of the Conservatory Sinfonietta, is also conducted by Dean J. Edgar Anderson. Its instrumentation consists of four first violins, four second violins, three violas, two cellos, and two double basses.

The String Ensemble rehearses once each week and plays the standard literature for such groups. Typical of the works performed are Grieg's "Holberg" Suite, Mozart's Eine Kleine Nacht Musik, and Barlow's Soliloquy for Flute and Strings.

BAND

ROBERT BLACK.....	President
JAMES SADLER.....	Vice-President
JOHN MORGAN.....	Secretary-Treasurer
TOMMY LAWRENCE.....	Librarian

All students of the College and Conservatory who play band instruments are invited to join the Band. A large amount of music is read each year in order to acquaint the music education students with as much music of the Band as possible. The Band played for several chapel programs, basketball games, and presented concerts on and off the campus. An opportunity to rehearse the Band in compositions of their own choosing is offered to all students majoring in the field of music education.

The Shenandoah College Band has had a colorful past. During the First World War the College Band enlisted in the U. S. Army as a Regimental Band and, under the directorship of Prof. W. H. Ruebush, made an enviable record for those of us of the present and the future to emulate.

BRASS CHOIR

The Brass Choir is composed of a group of students selected from those majoring in brass instruments. The main source of music for this group is by composers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, when brass instrumental music flourished widely. The repertory also includes compositions by modern composers.

WOODWIND ENSEMBLE

The Conservatory Woodwind Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. W. Lee Mack, is a new addition to the many musical activities at Shenandoah. First organized during the 1947-48 school year, the ensemble has been for the past two years an active participant in musical activities at Shenandoah, Madison College, and at high schools and music club meetings in Rockingham County. Woodwind chamber music combinations vary from duets to sextets with a repertoire of fine music ranging from 17th century to contemporary works.

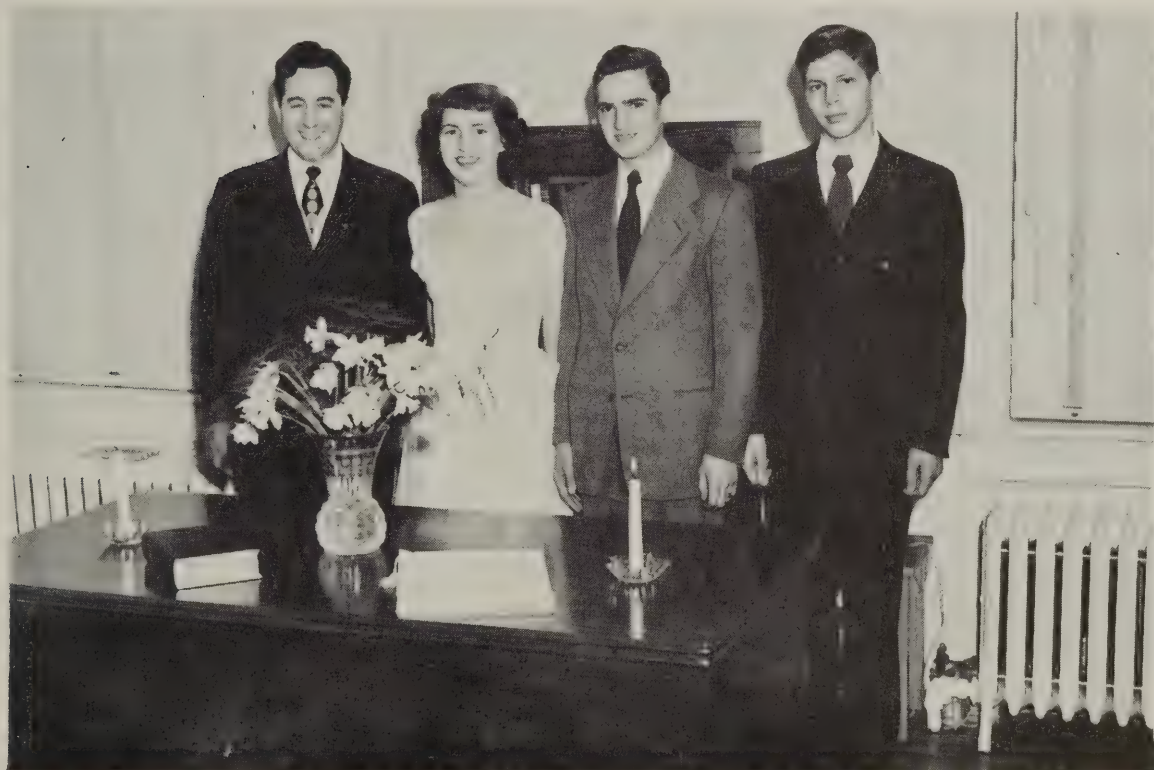

PHI THETA KAPPA

JOLLETTE STEPPE.....	President

ROBERT ESBENSHADE	Secretary
ROLAND GARVIN.....	Treasurer

A charter was granted to Shenandoah College for the Zeta Kappa Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, a national honorary scholastic society, on June 9, 1947. This is a non-secret organization established to promote scholarship, develop character, and cultivate fellowship among the students of both sexes of the junior colleges of the United States of America.

To become eligible for membership in Phi Theta Kappa, a student must be regularly enrolled in the college division, have completed at least one term or semester, and have a grade point ratio of not less than 2, which is a "B" average on all college work, previous to election. He must be of good moral character and possess recognized qualities of citizenship as judged by the faculty committee and active members.

On December 12, 1947, seven Charter Members were initiated and, since that time, the names of nine additional students have been added to the membership. Roland Garvin is the only member initiated last year who is on the campus at the present time.

THE THESPIANS

STANLEY AVISON*President*
 THELMA MITCHELL*Vice-President*
 BOB DANLEY.....Secretary-Treasurer
 MISS MADGE KEITER.....Faculty Advisor

The Thespians, the dramatic club of Shenandoah College and Shenandoah Conservatory of Music, began a very active year by presenting several one-act plays staged by members of the Play Production Class. These were well received.

The club continued to present skits in Assembly, and for different occasions.

For their major production they presented Alice Duer Miller's, "The Charm School," to a large and appreciative audience on March 1, 1949.

On May 17, they again presented an evening's program of three one-act plays as their final offering for the year.

DELTA PSI OMEGA

In the spring of 1940, three enthusiastic Thespians secured a charter for the Delta Psi Omega to be organized at Shenandoah College and Shenandoah Conservatory of Music.

This society was organized as an honorary dramatic fraternity for the purpose of providing a society for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics. The fraternity does not take the place of the regular Dramatic Club, but as students qualify, they are rewarded by election to membership in this organization. This election is a recognition of excellence of participation in college dramatics. There are about twenty-five members at this time.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

ROLAND GARVIN.....	President
UNDINE BRIDGERS.....	First Vice-President
HOWARD BIGAM	Second Vice-President
GORDON HEIDELBACH.....	Secretary-Treasurer
MR. RAYMOND E. GROSE.....	Faculty Adviser

The International Relations Club is under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for Peace. The history of International Relations Clubs really began in 1914, when clubs were organized to stimulate interest in international relations, under the name of International Polity Clubs. However, in the autumn of 1920, the clubs assumed the name International Relations Clubs.

Following are some of the many ways in which the International Relations Club benefits students: Student interest in international affairs is aroused and made durable; students are made to realize that international problems are exceedingly complex and that these problems have a multiplicity of answers; students learn how to conduct and to participate in public meetings. The International Relations Club provides an opportunity for many pleasant social relations, for both advisors and students.

Periodically, the Carnegie Endowment supplies the latest books and materials on international affairs.

BASEBALL TEAM

The Hornets 1949 Baseball Team is made up of many new members. Only Bill Dahl, George Bailey and Buddy Thacker were members of last years' squad.

Although many of the boys are inexperienced, they have shown a great deal of enthusiasm in their practice sessions. 'Skip' Hill, who is playing his first year of organized baseball, has shown great promise on the pitching staff. Bob Danley and George Bailey are also working out for mound duty. Bill Dahl will probably do much of the catching.

E. H. Poole, Buddy Thacker, Bill Nunn, Eddie Byrd, and George Booth will make up the infield positions. Don Proffitt, Gene Skelton, Al Barco, Don Harrison, Norman Workman, and Otis Boyd will comprise the outfield positions.

The Shenandoah College Hornets, under the direction of Coach Roy Black, have completed their most successful season in a number of years.

Sparked by the offensive prowess of Skip Hill, George Booth, and Bob Danley, the Hornets rolled on from victory to victory.

The season officially began on December 4, when the Hornets met a strong Potomac State Quint in the S. C. gym and downed them with a 56-41 score.

It ended on March 5 when the Ramblin' Reds of Bluefield College traveled to Dayton to be defeated—for the first time by a S. C. Quint—62-46.

Six of the S. C. Hornets bowed out of the court picture when the final curtain was brought down on the 1948-1949 court season.

It's good-bye and good luck to Skip Hill, Tackle Spencer, Art Clingerman, Bill Dahl, George Bailey, and Tootie Trainum.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

After getting off to a shaky start, the girls' basketball team snapped into the winning column and experienced a moderately successful season. During the completion of their schedule, they suffered three heart-breaking defeats when they lost the decision by a mere one-point margin.

Although guard Jane Keiter completed her junior college work at semesters and forward Betty Camden sustained a knee injury which kept her out of the line-up, blessed with good reserve material, t'e Gal Hornets rose to the occasion and completed their season in an admirable fashion. Billy Paige Good was the high scorer, netting 88 points for her season's work.

CHEER LEADERS

The loyalty cheer, "We've got a team," typified the talent and spirit of our cheer leaders—Stanley Avison, Lynn Hawkins, Paul Hildenbrand, Ann Parkinson, and Nell Tutwiler—during the entire sports season. Each one spark-plugged the enthusiasm of the fans from mere murmurings to the powerful rumblings, so that the team players easily caught the spirit of the crowd. From the first chant at the pep rally in Bricker Chapel to the last scream in the Shenandoah gym, the cheer leaders drew good-natured responses from the audience. It proved to be a good season of teamwork.

Sue Buchanan, Conservatory Sophomore, Chilhowie, Virginia
Lynn Hawkins, Conservatory Freshman, Hampton, Virginia
Polly Lotts, College Senior, Staunton, Virginia
Patsy Kelley, College Freshman, Mt. Jackson, Virginia

The annual May Day Festival is held the first Saturday in the amphitheater. The Queen and the maids of the court are elected by popular vote by the student body.

The May Day Chairman is elected each year from the Y.W.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. cabinets. All the students in the Physical Education Department take part in the pageant or work on committees. Minor expenses are paid by the Women's Student Government Association and the Student Y.

At this time the College and the Conservatory are hosts to the alumni, friends, students, families, and the people of the community.

KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS

The week prior to Valentine's Day is known on our campus as Leap Week. It is concluded on Valentine's Day with a formal party during which a council of judges, composed of faculty members, selects a King and Queen of Hearts and two attendants. The duty of this royal party is to reign over the celebration of the birthday of St. Valentine.

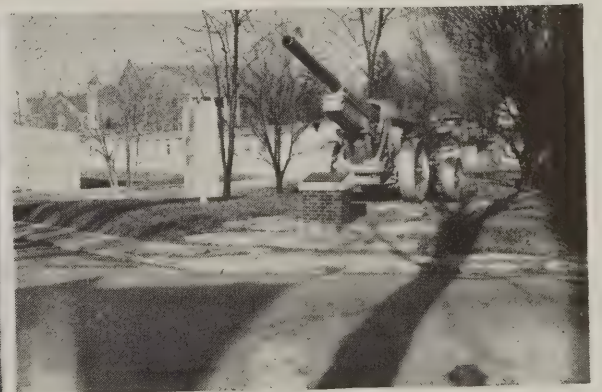

This custom was begun to represent Valentine's Day and has continued, each year being a little more elaborate.

Sometimes it is the nature of a craft to create an unbreakable tie between itself and the worker in that field, a heart attachment equal to lifetime devotion. One familiar example is PRINTING. Once editor, once compositor, or pressman catches the spirit of the shop, the spell is seldom broken. Like the odor of a camp fire, or a whiff of salt air, the beloved tang of printer's ink, symbolical of a great profession, gets into your heart and soul. School Annuals, Magazines, Newspapers and Special Printing, all smack of it. It is an invisible link that binds all intelligence together. It is the stimulus for creation in business or romance. This craftsmanship, this devotion to service and alertness to business needs, has nourished and developed enormous industrial vitality and whichever way the course of the future runs, the printer will always find himself able to adapt his helpfulness to new opportunity.

YEARS OF EXPERIENCE HAVE TAUGHT US! PRINTING PAYS US ONLY WHEN IT PAYS YOU!
